The theme for this year's conference will be "Protecting the Caribbean Sea, our heritage, our future."

Ramada International Hotels and Resorts has also made a commitment to the environment by "protecting rare plants and animals that best preserve the diversity of life on Earth." In recent years, Ramada International Hotels and Resorts in conjunction with American Express has generated over $185,000.00 to fund conservation projects.

As an eco-tourist, it is important to be aware of the impact that each of us has on the environment during our stay. As a basic rule of thumb, always remember to leave eco-sites exactly as you found them. If this one simple rule would be practiced by all, it would help to ensure that we leave the best of our environment to be enjoyed by future generations. *
